

PR2 – A Walk in Freixo

Starting/Arrival Point: Freixo

(GPS: 38.682222, -7.650278)

Distance/duration: 5 km – about 1.5 hrs

Degree of difficulty: easy

This route takes you around the village, always on a paved surface, through the built-up area and into the open fields. The slopes are gentle with the possible exception of the short stretch (<100m) up to the Vidigueira dolmen, which has a gravel surface.

The route starts at the transition between the village and the countryside, heading towards Monte dos Gaios, with the old mill on the right reminding us of the lands of bread and wind. When you reach the farmhouse, you can admire a fine example of Alentejo rural architecture. From here, the landscape opens up into an area of crop-growing and grazing land, dominated by the lovely Monte da Igreja, with its typical architecture. A little farther on, in front of the farm (monte), you will see an ancient marble cross.

Opposite stands the Church of Nossa Senhora do Freixo, a typical example of Alentejo religious architecture, known since the 16th century. At this point, you are once again very close to Monte dos Gaios, where you take the track to the left, heading towards the Quinta da Vidigueira. Follow the wall of the Quinta until you come to the Vidigueira Dolmen, which has been a National Monument since 1910.
